GLASS FUSION WORKSHOP

July 7 - 9

10:00 am - 2:00 pm

Jennifer Balletto Glass Fusion Studio, Sebastopol

Referred to as "warm glass", glass fusion is one of the oldest forms of glass making. Instead of blowing the glass, torches and kilns are used to make the glass molten. Each piece begins with hand cut, broken, pulled and ground pieces of glass. These pieces of glass are then designed in a layered manner and through a series of firings (at temperatures ranging from 1,200-1,500 degrees) a new piece of glass is formed and finally coaxed into its ultimate shape. Glass is an extraordinary medium for artistic expression; you won't believe your eyes when you see the amazing projects that your child will produce in this workshop. For this camp we will travel to the studio of Jennifer Balletto. Jennifer will share her passion while leading the campers through a series of projects.
